BridgeValley Community and Technical College Foundation will host its Inaugural Bridging Success Celebration June 16th

South Charleston, W. Va. — The BridgeValley Community and Technical College Foundation will host the Inaugural Bridging Success Celebration. The remarks and awards portion of the evening's program will begin at 7:00PM.

This year's event will honor retiring BridgeValley President Dr. Jo Harris. She has led the college for 12 years, first navigating the creation of an independent institution followed by the consolidation of Bridgemont and Kanawha Valley Community and Technical Colleges into BridgeValley, a multi-campus college with sites in Montgomery and South Charleston.

The annual event honors individuals who support BridgeValley's mission to promote student success, prepare a skilled workforce, and build tomorrow's leaders by providing access to quality education. Another aim of the evening is to raise funds for the BridgeValley Foundation to support academic programming, scholarships, community outreach, and other initiatives.

The BridgeValley Foundation, a 501(c) (3) organization, was established as a means to enlist support from alumni, industry and the community to assist with expenses that are not covered by legislative funding. This additional support from our donors enables the college to offer, maintain and update academic programming that prepares BridgeValley graduates to enter the workplace with skills necessary to navigate the rapidly changing technologies of today's world. It also offers scholarship opportunities for students that might otherwise be unable to continue their education.
